Bronx. When New York goes up to the gardens of the New York Zoological Society in Bronx Park, whose telegraphic address is "Zoopark. New York," New York must put behind its back the old familiar designation, "monkey house," the cynosure and delight of thousands who have visited the home of the simians in Central Park, and betake themselves to the Primates' House, if they want to see the monkeys, or else give needless pain to the managers of the Bronx Park collection of arboreal representatives. There is no monkey house in the Bronx Park, but there are some wonderful monkeys in the Primates' House there, which was formally opened yesterday afternoon and will be open to the public after 10 o'clock this morning. and lemuroids. Sally, the orang-outang of gastronomic reputation, is well again and has a cage of honor in the north hall of the building. This north hall is to be the home of the man-like apes, but Sally is at present the only representative of the anthropoids there, and she shares the hall with the lemurs. She masquerades under the designation of Simia satyrus of Borneo but it is declared that she has declined to be a sister to the wild man of the same island. Yesterday afternoon she was making a dessert dish of a piece of his making a dessert dish of a piece of his making a seizing the other by the cheek they held on like bulldogs, and falling heavily to the floor roiled over and over in a fierce rough-and-tumble bout which lasted for several minutes. Finally by means of poles thrust through the netting they were separated. The younger specimen of the two conquered the older and left him bleeding in several places from slight skin wounds. From that time on, the large male feared to associate with the other, and the next morning they were separated. Among the other rare exhibits are the entellus monkeys from India and the mustache and white-nosed monkeys from Africa, and also the mongoos, black-spotted and ring-tailed lemurs from Madagascar. Only about half of the specimens shown have been seen publicly before. The cages are fitted with double trapezes and bars, and flying rings are to be put in. The New World monkeys are in the south hall and the baboons and Old World monkeys in the central hall.

The Board of Managers of the society and the Commissioner of Parks of The Bronx, with some other guests, lunched at the Rocking Stone in the Park yesterday with Director Hornaday, and paid a visit to the new primates' home.

LEVY ON HIS PERSONAL ASSETS IN BROOKLYN EXPLAINED.

Further Levy Attempted in This County, but Stipulation Made Holding Matters Seized Until the Court Passes On Harriman Land Company Case.

Deputy Sheriff Rinn of New York county has received an execution for $7,101 against the Rev. Isaac K. Funk in favor of Charles Gerding, Jr., on the same claim under which the Sheriff of Brooklyn took possession of Mr. Funk's house in Brooklyn. At Mr. Funk's office at 30 Lafayette place it was said that all the property there belongs to the Funk and Wagnalls Company, and a written notice to that effect was sent by Mr. Funk to the Sheriff's office.

Rinn levied upon two certificates of deposit of the Chatham National Bank aggregating $8,380, which he received from the American Bonding and Trust Company of Baltimore. After the Sheriff had levied on the certificates notice was received from Russell & Winslow, solicitors for the Harriman Land Company, to the effect that the moneys represented by the Welshman and a mason. The son came certificates of deposit are not the property of I. K. Funk, but are the property of the Harriman Land Company and are a trust fund in the hands of Mr. Funk for the benefit of the Harriman Land Company, and formal claim was made to the Sheriff for the de-claim was made to the Sharm livery of the moneys to the Harriman Land Company, Gerding and the land company finally entered into a stipulation that pending a determination by the Court the Sherifi shall not turn over to plaintiff anything taken in this levy.

Dr. Funk gave out this statement yesterday:

In 1886, as chairman of the Reorganization Committee of the East Tempessee Land Company, I employed Gerding, Sr., to serve the committee. He was to be paid in railroad bonds belonging to the committee The committee the sly refused to pay him, on the ground that he had broken his contract and an an expert on labor matters and in the following years he wrote and spoke a great deal on labor questions.

Col. Hinton became associated with John Brown in Kansas in 1853 at the opening of the long struggle for a non-slave-holding State, and he was with him at Harriman that he committee the south in the following years he wrote and spoke a great deal on labor matters.
